From the Principal

Dear Families,

How exciting it has been to come back to school this week and see the students playing on the new artificial pitches. My thanks to Diane Winterling for following the project through during my absence, and while there are still some finishing touches to add, the project has been an outstanding addition to the school. I also repeat the thanks to Jane Richards from the last newsletter and the work she put in with Burnside Council – a wonderful contribution from her to ensure the success of the project.

I also note the landscaping on the western side of the school is complete. This project as a part of our “Come-out” theme has been the work of Wendy Goodson and Chris Narroway, and has really added a new feature to the school. I hope you take some time for a walk through the area and a short pause in the peaceful garden setting that has been established. Another great project, and well done.

And finally, the new front fence was started on Wednesday, and should be finished shortly – we have waited some time to approve this project – the final result I am sure will further enhance the beauty of our school.

Late news: a new roof for the transportable building to stop the leaking that occurs with the box gutter arrangement has just been approved – our two reception teachers will be delighted and it will make the verandah area a more usable space for our students.

OSHC outsourcing

Camp Australia has been the successful tender with the outsourcing of the OSHC, as many parents would have known through the correspondence this week. This process has taken many months and has been meticulously followed through by DECD as part of our school being a first in the state for this type of outsourcing process. Camp Australia will be meeting with the current staff shortly and we expect a smooth transition to the new service.

Acting Principal

Many thanks to those who wrote their support with the announcement of my continuing in the role of principal for the next 7 years. It is an honour to be the principal of such a great school, and I am looking forward to the next steps in what has been so far an exciting time of change for Rose Park. That said, Diane Winterling as acting principal let nothing slip during my work in Canada, and it is really reassuring to know I can have this time out of the school and with Diane and the professional staff we have, things just keep moving smoothly.

I will provide a brief report of my work in Canada to the next Governing Council meeting and some dot points in the next newsletter.

Brett Darcy
Principal

IBPYP

It has been wonderful to welcome our students back after their break and of course a special welcome to our brand new students and their teacher Jo Ferguson.

Our last newsletter acknowledged the efforts of our Year 7 students for their exhibition and in this newsletter I have included some of their reflections.

I thought that the interactive parts of the exhibition made it fun to learn. The feedback area was a good idea. I learnt that working in a team can sometimes be hard and that it is hard to complete things when student free days, public holidays and sport get in the way. Overall the exhibition was a different experience. It was hard all the way through but turned but good at the end. I would like to thank all the teachers and my friends for helping me.

Cassie Elflett, Room 9

I thought the exhibition was a great experience and my group did really well. I was proud of them. The highlights were the attitudes of everyone because everyone was so nice, meeting new people and playing games, in particular quoits. I learnt it can be really hard to work as a team for such a long period of time. Overall it was great fun and I enjoyed it a lot. I’d like to thank the parents for coming and the teachers for helping me.

Nathan Rees, Room 9

The 2013 exhibition was really fun and interesting. The highlights were getting the kids to do our quiz and working with my group. I enjoyed taking photos in the music group and the games at the sports stall. I learnt about the Chinese and Roman army and I also learnt many things from the parents.

Matthew Green, Room 8

The 2013 exhibition was a lot of fun for everyone because we got to do things we were interested in. I learnt many new things about music in Ancient Civilisations including many of the instruments that we use today have evolved from instruments in ancient times. I learnt that in a group you have to compromise.

Sophie Curyer, Room 8

The 2013 exhibition was great fun, it was very interesting and I enjoyed every minute of it. The highlights were communicating to other people, it made me feel important and involved. The games this year was also one of the main highlights and all the stations looked neat and colourful. I learn many new things involving new information about medicine, qis, yin and yang, herbs, medical treatment and remedies.

Heidi Li, Room 10

The 2013 exhibition was a very successful and enjoyable event for all of the year 7 students. The highlights were teaching the younger students, working as a group, making posters and models, looking at how others presented things and being able to do most of the work ourselves. I learnt lots of things during the exhibition, including lots of things about ancient musical instruments and how to play some of them and when the instruments were used. I also learnt lots of things about ancient musical theatre and general ancient music.

Sarah Thompson, Room 10

The 2013 exhibition was interesting and exciting. The highlights were definitely meeting different people and learning heaps of interesting things. Even though we were telling parents about transport, they taught us a few things too. I learnt a lot of things and not just about the work, about other people too. This year’s exhibition was a lot of fun and I learnt a lot about team work.

Julien White, Room 10

The 2013 exhibition was fun and interesting. I thought the groups worked very well together. The highlights were talking to children and adults, explaining about medicine and teaching kids the basic facts about medicine. I learnt that Ancient Egypt, China and India believed in bad spirits getting inside your body and the doctors would give you a nasty drink. Overall I found that people had a lot of fun on the day and leading up to it. I would like to thank the teachers for helping set up.
